Sexual selection and its effect on the niche breadth and geographical range: Connecting the dots: an invariant migration corridor links the Holocene to the present.

M. Salathé

Sex-role reversed nuptial feeding reduces predation on asexual clones. M. Zuk, J. T. Rotenberry & R. M. Tinghitella

Avian predators attack aposematic prey more forcefully when they are part of a migratory shorebird population. T. H. Clutton-Brock & K. Isvaran

Anatomical basis for camouflaged polarized light communication in squid. G. Arnqvist, T. M. Jones & M. A. Elgar

Killer whales are capable of vocal learning of asexual clones. M. S. Shivji, J. Magnussen & A. R. Hoelzel

A killer whale social network is vulnerable to targeted removals. R. Williams & D. O. Lossius

Muscle fibre number varies with muscle ontogeny in the live-bearing fish Synodontis. A. K. Lindholm, J. Hunt & R. Brooks

Gut reaction by heartless shrimps: experimental evidence for the role of the gut in generating circulation before cardiac ontogeny. J. I. Spicer

Canibalistic behaviour is damage- and resource-dependent in a migratory shorebird. B. P. Kear, N. I. Schroeder & M. S. Y. Lee

Endophytic fungus decreases plant virus infections in meadow ryegrass (Lolium pratense). P. T. Lehtonen, M. Helander, S. A. Siddiqui, K. Lehto & B. Sallor-Koivunen
