Meeting report
145. Biodiversity research sets sail: showing the diversity of marine life T. J. Vidal
Animal behaviour
146. Tactical reproductive parasitism via larval cannibalism in Peruvian poison frogs J. S. Bowers, V. Morales & K. Summers
152. From coprophagy to predation: a dung beetle that kills newts P. M. Iano, A. Lopes, A. Føynh & F. Goller
160. Latent inhibition of predator recognition by embroyonic amphibians M. C. D. Ferrante & D. F. Chivers
163. Swamp sparrows modulate vocal performance in an aggressive context A. S. Dallal, S. Novicki & W. A. Stacey
166. Lactating red squirrels experiencing high heat load occupy less insulated nests C. U. Gallowte, O. E. Fletcher, S. Boutin, R. M. Hodges, A. G. McLennan & M. H. Humphries
172. Calculated reciprocity after all: computation behind token transfers in orang-utans C. D. H. Sherman, E. Wapstra & M. Olsson
174. Indirect cues of nest predation risk and avian reproductive decisions M. Miklisch, T. Emeny, T. Karavita & W. Warren
179. Oestradiol level and opportunistic reproduction in orang-utans A. Genova, H. M. G. Betts & J. E. Swenson
181. Pattern recognition in response to visual motion: common principles underlying learned and innate visual processing P. G. D. Feeney, M. Path, J. Engemann, F. Krchmann & B. Trauthem
183. Production and perception of communicatory signals in a noisy environment O. A. T. B. I. Knoops & H. D. Franklin
188. Assessment and decision-making in a Caribbean damselfish: nest-site quality influences prioritization of courtship and brood defence J. M. Jones, L. L. Ernster, A. Garem & J. Rokhman
191. Interactions between background matching and motion during visual detection can explain why cryptic animals keep still C. C. Swenson & J. Krause
194. Free amino acids as phagostimulants in cricket nymphal gifts: support for the ‘Candymaker’ hypothesis S. Warren, K. Vald, D. Raubenheimer & S. J. Simpson
197. The impact of host aggressiveness on sex allocation by the gregarious parasitoid Cotesia plutonis (L.) S. Tanaka
199. Evidence for egg discrimination prior to rejection attempts in a small crowd host A. Antonides, E. C. Eldredge, A. Mokros & E. Neale
203. From coprophagy to predation: a dung beetle that kills newts P. M. Iano, A. Lopes, A. Føynh & F. Goller
207. Tropical deforestation alters migration in pulmonates A. M. Carroll, A. M. Ambrose, J. M. Donelson, P. L. Munday & J. D. McCann
218. Moderation of pathogen-induced mortality: the role of density in B. cinerea (Bull.) virulence B. Raymond, K. J. Ellis & B. R. Bonam
225. Electrophysiological assessment of cryptic auditory stimuli: the influence of background noise on acoustic communication in a bat D. A. Pike
228. The movement of motion-defined flying objects in the stream P. A. Guerra & G. S. Pollack
234. Costs of reproduction in a long-lived species: avian egg size, clutch size, and sex allocation by the gregarious parasitoid Cotesia plutonis (L.) S. Tanaka
238. Free amino acids as phagostimulants in cricket nymphal gifts: support for the ‘Candymaker’ hypothesis S. Warren, K. Vald, D. Raubenheimer & S. J. Simpson
240. Asymmetric reproductive isolation during simultaneous reciprocal mating in pulmonates A. Ungersbock, K. Seif, M. Hert & T. Auren
244. Lines of evolutionary divergence differ between olfactory and gustatory receptors of Drosophila A. Gardner, K. R. Bjerke, W. C. Jordan & M. G. Ritchie
256. Parental effects on offspring life histories: when are they important? J. M. Donelson, F. L. Murray & M. J. McCormack
260. Invited reply. Natural beaches produce more hatching marine turtles than developed beaches, despite regional differences in hatching success D. A. Pike
262. Population ecology
266. Invited reply. Natural beaches produce more hatching marine turtles than developed beaches, despite regional differences in hatching success D. A. Pike
266. Evolutionary biology
268. Invited reply. Natural beaches produce more hatching marine turtles than developed beaches, despite regional differences in hatching success D. A. Pike
274. Feeding muscles scale differently from swimming muscles in sunfish A. Genova, H. M. G. Betts & J. E. Swenson
278. Costs of reproduction in a long-lived bird: large clutch size is associated with low survival in the presence of a highly virulent disease S. Desmonpreux, N. G. Calsz, J. Bly, E. J. Butler & M. R. Forrester
286. Genetic compatibility and hatching success in the sea lamprey Cotesia glomerata (L.) parasitoid wasp A. Genova, H. M. G. Betts & J. E. Swenson
302. The impact of host aggressiveness on sex allocation by the gregarious parasitoid Cotesia plutonis (L.) S. Tanaka
306. Evidence for egg discrimination prior to rejection attempts in a small crowd host A. Antonides, E. C. Eldredge, A. Mokros & E. Neale
310. Calculated reciprocity after all: computation behind token transfers in orang-utans C. D. H. Sherman, E. Wapstra & M. Olsson
318. Costs of reproduction in a long-lived species: avian egg size, clutch size, and sex allocation by the gregarious parasitoid Cotesia plutonis (L.) S. Tanaka
326. The movement of motion-defined flying objects in the stream P. A. Guerra & G. S. Pollack
